

National Learning
Community for HIV
CBO Leadership

The National Learning Community (NLC) for HIV CBOs leaders presents, The Leadership Lab, a leadership speaker series that provides mid-level managers, CBOs professionals, and senior leaders across the NLC's national network with opportunities for leadership development and networking.

This series focuses on innovation and presents top-level leaders with practical, cutting-edge insights. Each month, an inspiring leader and recognized experts will discuss their accomplishments, challenges, and wisdom. At each event, a different external guest speaker will share their leadership journey, reflections on what has influenced them as leaders, and insight into leadership innovations.

The Leadership Lab will provide the opportunity to interact with exceptional leaders and experts from diverse backgrounds and to participate in discussions on important topics.

Guest Speaker: Pavni Aeshini Guharoy (she/her), MPH

Pavni Guharoy focuses on the intersection of digital marketing and public health. With over 22 years of experience across the private sector, healthcare associations, federal programs, community-based organizations, and foundations, she amplifies how real people's lives are affected by science, services, and policy. Pavni has a Bachelor in Business (Marketing and Media Relations) from Curtin Business School, Perth/Australia, and a Master in Public Health in Public Health (Prevention and Community Health) from the Milken School of Public Health, GW University, Washington, DC.

As a woman of color and an adult immigrant, she prioritizes public health issues where people of color experience the greatest systemic inequities. As inherent to her digital marketing efforts, Pavni has collaborated with organizational leaders to cultivate their voices and build an online presence. In 2022, Pavni set up her own consulting business - MetaMorph. She is also a community photographer who aims to reframe the mainstream narrative around people of color.
